about

Since 1999, Dotsquare has been a leading provider of design, production, and media development services. We specialize in brand communication, corporate identity, and branding, delivering comprehensive marketing tools to help your business grow and stand out from the competition.

how it started

Founded in 1999, Dotsquare has transitioned from a print and production company to a specialized agency, expertly blended to navigate the complexities of modern visual, brand and corporate communication.

what we do

Our services include concept development, brand management, and innovative design solutions, all aimed at providing a strategic market advantage.

We are committed to creating impactful brand experiences that effectively engage your audience to strengthen your market presence.

our strengths

Our expertise in innovative concepts and strategic solutions provide our clients with a distinct competitive advantage.

This focus on excellence has forged enduring partnerships, driven by our hands-on, owner-led approach to achieving exceptional results.

our experience

Our extensive experience with blue-chip and well-established corporate clients empowers us to execute pioneering projects across the media spectrum.

With a combined 95 years of expertise, our team has a proven track record of successfully addressing diverse challenges the business world has to offer.

We bring our diverse background of advertising, design, branding, public relations, research and strategic planning to work for your company.

With years of experience and keen intuition, Dotsquare has evolved into a highly efficient and focused organization. Our dedicated team has honed their craft to perfection, consistently delivering on our commitment to innovation, cutting-edge ideas, and practical solutions.

Our expertise and passion for the industry distinguish us from competitors, earning us a diverse range of clients, contracts, awards, and lasting relationships.
